DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in response to amendment filed 5/10/04, claims 2-7, 9-16, 18-25, 27-34, 36-42 and 44-45 have been examined and remain pending.
2. The following rejections are for the purpose of clarification and to correct minor informalities.
3. Claims as amended (5/10/04) overcome the prior art of record and placed application in condition for allowance.

Claim Rejection under 35 U.S.C. 101

4. Claims 2 and 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 101 which reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

5. Claim 2 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. §101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. In this case, computer-related inventions whether descriptive or functionally descriptive material are non-statutory categories when claimed as descriptive material per se (see Warmerdam, 33 F.3d at 1360 USPQ2d at 1759), falling under the “process” category (i.e. inventions at that consist of a series of steps or acts to be performed). See 35 U.S.C. 100(b) (“The term process means, art, or method, and includes a new of a known process, machine, manufacture, composition of matter or material”). Functional descriptive material: “data structures” representing descriptive material per se or computer program representing computer listing per se when embodied in a computer-readable media are still not statutory because they are not capable of causing functional change in the computer. However, claimed computer-readable medium encoded with a data structure defined structural and functional interrelationships between the data structure and the computer software and hardware component, which permit the data structure’s functionality to be realized, and is thus statutory (see MPEP 2106).

Double Patenting Rejection

6. Other copending applications with instant application of common invention and/or assignee (as of the date of this office action) have been reviewed. Issue patents and copending applications other than that/those mentioned below do not warrant a double patenting rejection.

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 2-7, 9-16, 18-25, 27-34, 36-42, 44-45 rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 of U.S. Patent No. 6,332,157. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the networked computer system of the patent is in substance the same, the difference between the patent and instant application, in substance lies that in the patent the client system further comprises a conventional television set as a display. All the claim limitation in the patented are included on instant application (except for noted difference). Claims of instant application are not patentable distinct from the earlier patent claims and as such is unpatentable for obvious type double patenting.
